

TULSA WORLD

EVERY MORNING, EVENING AND SUNDAY

MEMBER OF THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Eugene Larson ... President and Editor
F. D. Larson ... Business Manager

Entered in the Tulsa Postoffice as Second Class Matter

Official County Paper

AVERAGE NET PAID CIRCULATION FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL.

J. E. K. LEWIS, Managing editor, do escribes how the service and per-circulation of the Tulsa World is and what has been done to the World's circulation and readership and how it is increasing.

Investigative Manager.

Subscribed and sent before me this 20th day of April, 1919.

MABEL REED

Editorial Staff Writer

My correspondence comes in 1921

TULSA MORNING WORLD

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for retransmission of all news dispatches credited to it or to other news syndicates published in this paper and also the local news published herein.

MORNING OR EVENING, WITH SUNDAY

One Year $1.50
Six Months $1.25
Three Months $1.00
One Month .75

MORNING OR EVENING WITHOUT
SUNDAY

One Year $1.50
Six Months $1.25
Three Months $1.00
One Month .75

MORNING OR EVENING, WITH SUNDAY

One Year $1.50
Six Months $1.25
Three Months $1.00
One Month .75

MORNING OR EVENING, WITH SUNDAY

One Year $1.50
Six Months $1.25
Three Months $1.00
One Month .75

MORNING OR EVENING WITHOUT
SUNDAY ONLY

One Year $1.50
Six Months $1.25
Three Months $1.00
One Month .75

BY CARPENTER TULIA, SAND HURON, KENDALL AND RED FORK

Morning or Evening, with Sunday—$1.50
Per Week $1.25
Per Year in Advance $6.00

Morning or Evening, with Sunday—$1.00
Per Week $0.75
Per Year in Advance $3.00

FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS

After 9 p.m. daily, Sundays and holidays call the following:

Editorial Department ..... 6000

Editorial Department ..... 6001

Society ..... 6002

Business Office ..... 6003

Subscription Department ..... 6004

Daily Food

Fear not for I have redeemed thee.
I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine, saith the Lord.

The gospel bears my spirit up.
A faithful and unchanging God lays the foundation of my hope in earth and promises and blood.

We were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold; but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. 1 Pet.
1:18, 19.

Vicious dogs are bad things to run free in the city yards where an inspector for either water, light or gas companies is liable to be required to go in the pursuit of his duties.

Lots of fun has been made of the city fly traps on the streets, but if they serve no better purpose than to remind all citizens that it is time to begin swatting the fly they will have justified their existence.

Just why it is that May day, one of the most beautiful and inspiring dates on the calendar, should be devoted to strikes and bloodshed as an annual occurrence is something we have never had explained. Let's either change the calendar or set a new date for our blood-letting appeal.

Speculators who whopped up prices on corn and pork some time ago now realize the truth of the old adage that "what goes up must come down. Just the same the scramble to get out of the way of the downpour is always interesting to the bystander who have had to pay for the fun of the food gamblers.

Officer Hiram Stephens is calculated to be a great disruptor of local liquor traffic. He shoots too easy and his bullet finds the mark. He has killed two men already in the last 20 days in the pursuit of his duty. If something is not done to him quickly the industry of transporting booze is going to become an undesirable vocation.

UNITED WE MAY STAND.

The detection of Italy from the peace conference is regrettable although the allies have no approaches to give themselves because Germany is in the sulks. He is evidently only waiting for an invitation to come back and be good after having had his point out, but the peace conference is going ahead just the same.

The plans of the allies will not go to pieces no matter what Italy does, but every evidence of division among the allied nations is not with future measure it is not what Italy or any other ally is to do. The German combine may do what is not dangerous to itself, but the secret which animated the acts of Italy and soon be evident in the conduct of other nations, is the one against which the whole scheme of a League of Nations must combat, or it goes to pieces.

Nothing can ever take the place of friendship and confidence between the proposed signatories of a league or any substitute for the league. Unless that friendliness and confidence can be established and maintained, we can do no more than make a treaty with a few nations and run the risk that another group will combine against us. Thus will the league plan fail of its own weight.

It is still more regrettable that dis-ension should have taken place when we regard the pleasure with which any rift in the allied plans is noted by the French group and by the Ruthenian peoples of world peace. No league of nations on paper and no peace treaty with Germany will keep peace in the world if the allied units of purpose among themselves are not in favor of the state going forward in standing still.

We have felt all along that the state of an alliance park was going to be created for any length of time. A prominent German statesman has given it as his opinion that the proposed league is only a nominal plan to hold Germany down permanently so that she cannot again assert her power. This is it. We all know that any peace with Germany, lesser or no, would be only a truce until Germany's tendency to go on the warpath again. She has been heaving fits since but her purpose has not altered. A league with her envisaged is virtually a declaration that against those which are left out of the pact. Better no league at than one which is standing in distrust.

Madame Wilson, the noted prima donna, has discovered a good motto for theater audiences. It was found in Psalms:

Clap your hands, all ye people;
it advises.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

America's first trial at interfere-ence in European affairs has resulted in alienating the sympathies of those who had every reason to become our best friends. We have not made peace more secure but we have laid the foundation for future trouble. Worse than all, we have left the impression that America has diametrically shifted the world's worst enemy from the punishment which is merely his due. In plain words we have made a mess of it. The beast of Berlin and all that he stands for should kick off the bat, have been summarily destroyed, instead of only crippled, and then the world would have been free to settle its minor differences without the shadow of a great danger hanging over its head, for the enemy has vitality left and will not fail to take advantage of every misstep the conquerors make upon which to build the plans of a future resurgence of German domination.

WITH A BAD GRACE.

The country will undoubtedly breath easier now that Burleson has loosened his grip on the wires of the country and the free institutions of this land are no longer in perpetual hazard as the result of a pernicious censorship that was none the less real because it was exercised directly through terrorism. We will not soon forget the oppressive act of the department in refusing the privilege of the mails to advance sheets of a publication containing an unfriendly criticism of the postmaster general, and these have been secured from foreign sources since. Another proof of America has made them here over New York is a fashion center, and Paris itself realizes this. It will have to fight as it never fought before for its American custom, and then it may not succeed.

The last report from Cam Russell was that he was down in the Canadian bottoms trying to convince a farmer that because the rains had made the roads impassable he ought to vote against the state road bonds and congratulated himself that he could not haul a load of garden tools to town and sell it on a rising market. The point was that he had to pay the tolls he had prevented some middle man from making an unearned profit.

Jane Ross, the actress who comes from the inland city of Cincinnati, regards her first experience at the seaport.

Accompanied by many friends who were showing the Cincinnati, who was determined to win his affection, he was sighted in the suburb of the city. The suburb was included in the itinerary. The suburban actress was spellbound by the magnificence of the Atlantic and did not fail to be impressed by the ferris wheel and the erry-go-rounds. From the far distance she observed in operation the light off Sandy Hook which marks the circle every minute gives every direction a flash. It was this that interested her most.

"What is it?" she inquired.
"A lighthouse," was the answer.
"Gee," she finally commented, "those sailors are patient. They are having an awful time keeping it lighted."

Snaps shot from the Dallas News: Of course it may be all right for one to laugh at locksmiths, but as a general thing a locksmith can pay his grocery bill. What has become of the old-fashioned Texan who hates his wife's talents and thought it was better to marry a woman of a man who was confident of his own rectitude, but as the "suggestion" of the president. It is only regretted that the president did not suggest that he get off the whole thing.

No man in American public life was ever more directly responsible for his own downfall than Mr. Burleson.
If today he is anathema to scores of millions of people in the United States the postmaster general has only himself to blame. He has antagonized and outraged every section of society—he has made himself a public nuisance and a national menace. The heart of an unrestrained Hohenlohe would have joined at the dooms he has promulgated and endeavored to put into effect. His has been repudiated by the nation by his party, by the business world and by labor. Nothing lacks of his share of contumacy except that the president should do more to get him off the job.

Speculators who whopped up
prices on corn and pork some time
ago now realize the truth of the old
adage that "what goes up must come
down. Just the same the scramble
to get out of the way of the downpour
is always interesting to the bystander
who have had to pay for the fun
of the food gamblers.

Officer Hiram Stephens is calculated to be a great disruptor of
local liquor traffic. He shoots too easy
and his bullet finds the mark. He has
killed two men already in the last 20
days in the pursuit of his duty. If
something is not done to him quickly
the industry of transporting booze
is going to become an undesirable
vocation.

UNITED WE MAY STAND.

The detection of Italy from the
peace conference is regrettable al-
though the allies have no approaches
to give themselves because Germany
is in the sulks. He is evidently only
waiting for an invitation to come
back and be good after having had
his point out, but the peace conference
is going ahead just the same.

The plans of the allies will not go
to pieces no matter what Italy does,
but every evidence of division
among the allied nations is not
with future measure it is not what
Italy or any other ally is to do. The
German combine may do what is not
dangerous to itself, but the secret which
animated the acts of Italy and soon
be evident in the conduct of other
nations, is the one against which the
whole scheme of a League of Nations
must combat, or it goes to pieces.

Nothing can ever take the place of
friendship and confidence between
the proposed signatories of a league
or any substitute for the league. Un-
less that friendliness and confidence
can be established and maintained,
we can do no more than make a
treaty with a few nations and run
the risk that another group will combine against us. Thus will the league
plan fail of its own weight.

It is still more regrettable that dis-
ension should have taken place

Oklahoma Outbursts

Tomorrow's vote on the good proposition will show whether you are in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

We have felt all along that the
state of an alliance park was going to be created for any length of
time. A prominent German states-
man has given it as his opinion that
the proposed league is only a nominal
plan to hold Germany down permanently so that she cannot again
assert her power. This is it. We all know that any peace with Ger-
many, lesser or no, would be only
a truce until Germany's tendency to go on the warpath again. She has been
heaving fits since but her purpose has
not altered. A league with her envisaged is virtually a declaration
that against those which are left out of the pact. Better no league at
than one which is standing in
distrust.

Squash Moggie says he would join the Taxayers League so long as the president sides to work in a high price car while the proletarian has to hoof it.

Maybe suggests that Haynesberry the tax collector for Santa Fe would be a good candidate for charlie m. as somewhat like his present mate, having neither pride in country nor posterity.

Since the nation wide dead plot has been discovered, the girl on South Main says she is afraid to open a parcel post package just received from a young man in France about whom she suspects carrying a message.

Madame Wilson, the noted prima
donna, has discovered a good motto
for theater audiences. It was found
in Psalms:

Clap your hands, all ye people;

it advises.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by
the Ruthenian peoples of world
peace. No league of nations on paper
and no peace treaty with Germany
will keep peace in the world if the
allied units of purpose among themselves
are not in favor of the state going
forward in standing still.

So when we regard the pleasure with
which any rift in the allied plans is
noted by the French group and by the Ruth